Enter at your own risk...

Before goosebumps plague your arms and your eyes cannot be ripped away from the screen, here are some things to know about our spooky little game:

- This is a text-based game, so there are very little graphics. If you don't like reading, sorry bud, this isn't the game for you. We want to let our words guide your imagination, and we figure you know how to scare yourself better than we ever could.

- This is also a choose-your-own-adventure game, so you will read the story and choose from a handful of actions at specific moments to determine what happens next. Some of these options will allow you to continue through the escape, but some may result in death. Choose wisely and you might make it out alive.

- To select an option, type the number on your keyboard and hit enter. Also, some sections of the story are longer than others, so you may need to hit enter to continue reading.

- The one graphic you do get to reap the benefits of is a map. You can pull up this map during given opportunities by typing "m" and hitting enter.

We hope you enjoy, good luck, and don't kick the cat.
